La Lumiere School Commissions Local Artist Connie Kassal for “South Shore” Style Painting

December 17, 2007, La Porte, Ind.— La Lumiere School announces the commission of a campus painting in the “South Shore” style, La Lumiere School – Near the South Shore Line.

Created by local Long Beach artist Connie Kassal, the poster captures the bucolic setting of La Lumiere’s campus and evokes the unique character of the School community in educating students in character, scholarship and faith. The painting depicts students in a diverse community, descending the stairway to success on La Lumiere’s campus with Moore House and the academic campus in the distance. Hand of God, an original sculpture by Swedish artist, Carl Milles, is illustrated in an inset towering over La Lumiere’s lower campus.

Visit our web site at www.lalumiere.org for information about the school, or to purchase a printed poster of the painting.

La Lumiere is a coeducational lay Catholic boarding and day school that provides a comprehensive college-preparatory, high school education for qualified young men and women from a rich diversity of backgrounds. It seeks to develop character, scholarship, and faith, while remaining both independently accredited and faithful to its Catholic heritage. Current enrollment is 165 students. It is situated on a beautiful rural estate 8 miles north of La Porte. Please visit www.lalumiere.org for directions and additional information.
